Positive behaviour management, level 1

~ includes 3 year accreditation certificate

Developing and supporting positive behaviours with transformative training

Our Positive Behaviour Management Level One - 6 Hour courses are for individuals operating in low-risk service settings. This includes mainstream primary and secondary schools, children's hospitals, adult learning and residential homes.

This 6-hour, one day course equips individuals with simple de-escalation strategies and basic positive handling techniques to deal with challenging behaviour and encourage positive relationships in their working environment.

Training is delivered by experienced instructors and tailored to the specific needs of those taking part.

Mark Roberts

'The behaviour of boys'

Day:

Wednesday 17th January 2024

10am – 2:30pm

In person at Finham Park

Twilight:

Wednesday 17th January 2024

3:15pm – 5:15pm

In person at Finham Park 2

Co- author of 'Boys Don't Try?' and "The Boy Question" Mark links boys' relative educational underachievement to mistaken attempts to aspire to an "outdated, but nonetheless widespread idea" about what it means to be a "real man" and "a brand of masculinity that leaves many boys floundering".

Mark's brand new book explores how these ideas of masculinity translate into certain behaviours and this will be the focus of his day's training.

Hear Mark speak in a honest, human and reflective way, drawing on his own journey as a student, teacher and leader, discussing how we can start to rethink this damaging masculinity in schools.

Prof. Des Hewitt

'Every behaviour is an act of communication' –
Recommended for ECTs

Monday 22nd January 2024
3:15pm – 4:30pm
In person at Finham Park

Sharing an insight into his brand new book for Routledge: 'Inclusion: a principled guide for Early Career Teachers' Des will consider the reasons behind student behaviours.

"Behaviour is like the tip of an iceberg, with the reasons for the behaviour below the surface of the water. SEND and other factors are issues below the surface which are the ultimate cause or explanation for a behaviour. Language misunderstanding, cultural differences, sensory issues can all contribute to frustration, anger or fear in the child."

Jean Gross (CBE)

'Reaching the unseen children'

Wednesday 5th June 2024
2:15pm – 4:15pm
In person at Finham Park

Jean is national expert on children's issues. She is passionate about achieving better life chances for disadvantaged children and young people and dedicates her time to trying to make a difference for this group. She has been a teacher, an educational psychologist, head of children's services in a local authority, and a Visiting and Associate Fellow at three universities.

Jean has frequently acted in an advisory capacity to government on early years, wellbeing and special educational needs policy. Until 2011 she was the government's Communication Champion for children and young people, responsible for promoting the importance of good language skills. Before this she led work on overcoming barriers to achievement as a Director of the government's National Strategies, including developing the influential Social and Emotional Aspects of Learning (SEAL) programme. She recently co-authored the Education Endowment Foundation's guidance 'Improving social and emotional learning in primary schools'.

Jean's interests are in the systematic application of evidence-based approaches to tackling disadvantage and under-achievement. She was awarded a CBE in the 2011 New Year's honours list, for services to education.
